Component Mission:

The Policy and Capabilities Directorate is focused on ensuring the IC is best postured to meet the future challenges and threats confronting our nation.

The ADNI/RC&E leads the intelligence community in independent systems analysis to better inform key capability and resource decisions, integrating mission priorities, needs, and resource data. RC&E is a highly matrixed organization and is dependent upon collaboration with other ODNI components, with a focus on integration, not ownership.

Major Duties and Responsibilities:

Conduct analytic and architecture studies and reviews of cross-cutting Intelligence Community (IC) issues and programs to identify investment alternatives for Director of National Intelligence (DNI) decision.

Manage a systems architecture and technical data collection process and collaborate with IC components on system-wide analysis efforts. Integrate Systems Engineering activities with the Intelligence Community components.

Develop multifaceted models and tools to estimate program performance including modeling and simulation, value frameworks, and analysis of alternatives to assess current and proposed IC capabilities.

Design and implement appropriate analysis and studies of IC programs and plans; construct and use simulation models, organize IC-wide analysis teams and conduct analyses, and prepare written reports and briefings documenting these technical efforts.

Lead, and maintain productive working relationships with IC stakeholders, colleagues, and users to analyze systems and operations performance metrics, reporting requirements, and exchange knowledge and leverage information sharing techniques regarding current and proposed programs.

Mandatory Requirements:

Excellent technical and analytical skills required to manage sensitive issues and ability to plan, lead, and implement complex technical projects.

Ability and/or academic background in systems engineering, operations research, systems analysis, physics, or modeling and simulation.

Experience developing and applying quantitative and qualitative methodologies for decision support or systems analysis to identify alternatives for resolving complex issues.

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE

L E A D I N G I N T E L L I G E N C E I N T E G R A T I O N

Superior oral and written communications skills, including ability to clearly convey complex information and ideas at all levels of management.

Ability to lead and promote the development and use of a broad range of analytical tools and approaches to research, analyze, and present findings, conclusions, and recommendations (systems analysis, statistical methods, simulation modeling, etc.).

Ability to develop consensus recommendations and to solicit input from colleagues and peers; ability to remain open-minded and change opinions on the basis of new information and requirements.

Desired Requirements:

Experience: Five or more years of experience leading strategic planning, managing, and directing the successful efforts of a government or private organization/industry.

Education: Master's degree preferred, Bachelor's degree in systems engineering, operations research, systems analysis or modeling and simulation.
